REASONS TO BELIEVE

- Consumers continue to pay more and more attention to food ingredient labels. Organic, natural and clean label are starting to blur together into one mega category as consumers seek natural, whole and nutrient dense ingredients
- Organic is associated with many positive attributes from naturalness to health, to product safety and ethical sourcing

KEY PRODUCT BENEFITS

- USDA organic certified colors
- Backward-integrated solutions due to close relationships with farmers
- Vibrant shades with the least color lost, best shade intensity and least taste impact
